

Write here the title of your paper, capitalize first letter. (Times New Roman 16)

Write here corresponding author's name and surname^{1*},
Write here co-author's name and surname²

¹*Write here the name of corresponding author's university/institution*

²*Write here the name of co-author's university/institution*

Abstract

Write the abstract of your paper here. It should not be more than 250 words. (Times New Roman 12)

Keywords: Write here up to 6 keywords that identify article content.

1. Introduction, Capitalize first letter (Times New Roman 12)

Begin with an introduction of your paper. If required you may change the title but without changing its format.

Start each new paragraph with indent like this. Make sure not to change the type of letters/fonts or the formatting of the paper.

2. Literature Review, Capitalize first letter

Proceed with the literature review of your paper. You can name the segment as required but without changing its format.

Start each new paragraph with indent like this. Make sure not to change the type of letters/fonts or the formatting of the paper.

3. Methodology, Capitalize first letter

Proceed with the methodology of your paper. You can name the segment as required but without changing its format.

Start each new paragraph with indent like this. Make sure not to change the type of letters/fonts or the formatting of the paper.

Sub-Segment

You may include as many sub-segments as needed. You should name each sub-segment as required but make sure that the formatting of the paper remains the same.

Start each new paragraph with indent like this. Make sure not to change the type of letters/fonts or the formatting of the paper.

Table 1. Write here the name or the description of the table.

Insert the table here. Number all the tables with consecutive numbers. All tables should be numbered with Arabic numerals. Headings should be placed above tables, left justified. Leave one line space between the heading and the table. Tables must be embedded into the text and not supplied separately.

Figure 1. Write here the name or the description of the figure.

Insert the figure here. Number all the figures with consecutive numbers. All figures should be numbered with Arabic numerals. Headings should be placed above figures, left justified. Leave one line space between the heading and the figure. Figures must be embedded into the text and not supplied separately.

4. Results, Capitalize first letter

Proceed with the results of your paper. You should name the segment as required but without changing its format.

Start each new paragraph with indent like this. Make sure not to change the type of letters/fonts or the formatting of the paper.

5. Conclusion, Capitalize first letter

Proceed with the conclusion of your paper. You may specify advantages, restrictions and potential applications. You should name the segment as required but without changing its format.

Start each new paragraph with indent like this. Make sure not to change the type of letters/fonts or the formatting of the paper.

References, Capitalize first letter

Start each new reference with indent like this. Please follow the specific journal guidelines regarding the presentation of the references.

Start each new reference with indent like this. Please follow the specific journal guidelines regarding the presentation of the references.

Acknowledgements, Capitalize first letter

Start each new acknowledgement with indent like this. Writing that part is optional. Please follow the specific journal guidelines regarding the presentation of the acknowledgements.

Endnotes, Capitalize first letter

1. If used, write here endnotes.
2. If used, write here endnotes.
3. If used, write here endnotes.

About the author(s), Capitalize first letter

You can write here a small biography of the author(s). It should not be more than 50 words for each author.